PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

TWO LYNCHED.

A TERRIBLE CRIME SWIFTLY PUNISHED.

GUILTY FIENDS HANGED.

South Carolina Husband and Brothers Make Short Work of Two Negro Rapists.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 31.—A double lynching took place at Gaston yesterday. The victims upon whom swift punishment was inflicted were two negroes who committed a fiendish assault upon a Mrs. Sightler of that place.

Yesterday one of the fiends, a young negro named Thompson, was arrested and upon being taken in custody he made a full confession, acknowledging that he and two other negroes named Preston and Kaigler committed the crime.

The crowd was terribly enraged and it was proposed to burn him. He begged so piteously, however, that the cooler members of the mob interfered, and he was taken to a small tree near by and hanged, not, however, until the husband of the wronged woman had laid fifty lashes upon his bare back with a buggy whip, every one of which brought the blood. After the body had hanged two minutes, over a hundred bullets were fired into it.

The crowd then went to search for Preston and to get Kaigler out of Lexington jail. At 11 o'clock Tom Preston was captured seven miles from Gaston and was at once taken to the scene of the early morning's tragedy. Here all the horrors of the Thompson lynching were re-enacted. Preston was stripped and pinioned to the same pile of cross-ties which had served as a scaffold for Thompson. Arch Sightler with the same heavy buggy trace beat the unfortunate wretch until his strength was exhausted. The whipping was continued by others of the mob until the negro's body was a mass of scarified, bleeding flesh. At 1 o'clock, after Preston had regained consciousness, he was swung up to the same limb to which Thompson had been hanged four hours before, and his body literally riddled with bullets. Preston protested his innocence to the last.

LADY TO REST.

The Burial of Miss Bessie Brickell This Forenoon.

The funeral of Miss Bessie Brickell, whose not unexpected death was chronicled in the SUNDAY MORNING DEMOCRAT, took place from Sacred Heart Catholic church at 9 o'clock this forenoon, the requiem high mass and burial service being conducted by Rev. Father B. Dickman.

The edifice was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends, and the many beautiful floral tributes bestowed attested in a slight degree the high regard in which the deceased was held.

The remarks of Father Dickman were touchingly beautiful, and many were the eyes that were dimmed with tears as the reverend father set forth the amiable qualities of the beloved dead, and it was realized that never again would she be the center of an admiring circle of friends this side of the grave.

The services concluded, the remains were borne to the Catholic cemetery, where the interment took place. The following young men acted as pall bearers: Frost Waddell, Frank Kennedy, Fred Farnham, Bob Fitzpatrick, Martin Ingram and Charlie Ingram.

Leaves for Indiana.

John McGinley, ex-county collector, will leave to-night for a visit of two or three weeks at Terre Haute and Indianapolis, and will probably witness one or two ball games while absent.

A SAD CASE.

A Stranger Who Attended Sacred Heart Church Yesterday.

A stranger whose appearance was something out of the ordinary attended early mass at Sacred Heart church yesterday. His striking manner caused a member of the congregation to inquire his name and place of residence, when he answered:

"I left here five years ago with $4500 and have been in Kansas ever since. I lost my wife there and also every dollar I had in the world. I have now returned with my five children and a team, the only way I have of making a living. My children and myself are suffering for the actual necessities of life, but I am too proud to beg and I cannot steal."

A piece of money was handed to the stranger, but he declined it. He was furnished with food for himself and children, however, and to-day he was given employment with his team, after having camped near the depot last night.

The case is a sad one, and the name of the unfortunate gentleman is omitted at the request of those who assisted him.

Lost Her Purse.

Mrs. Anna T. Kelly, who arrived home this morning from North Bend, Ind., left her purse and contents—several dollars—on the southbound M., K. & T. train and is considerably worried in consequence. Telegrams were sent with a view to recovering the money, but with no satisfactory result up to noon.

A TEACHER KILLED.

CHAS. MILLER MET DEATH THIS MORNING.

WAS STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

An Inquest Will Be Held at Farnham's Undertaking Rooms at 4 o'clock p. m.

Charles Miller, a well known colored school teacher, who has resided at Georgetown for many years past, single and aged about thirty years, was found dead by the side of the Lexington branch road, a little more than a mile from the depot, a few minutes before 10 o'clock this forenoon.

The body was discovered by Thomas Henderson, also colored, who came to town and reported the matter. Coroner Meuhl was notified and at once repaired to the spot and viewed the body, as did a large number of spectators, after which it was removed to Farnham's undertaking rooms, where an inquest will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

It is pretty generally conceded that Miller was struck and killed by outgoing Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 193, that left here at 5 o'clock this morning, in charge of Conductor Billy Wheeler and Engineer Ed Adams. It is possible, though, that he was hit by the incoming train that arrived at 10:30 o'clock last night. Superintendent Hopkins says from the information he now has it is impossible to say whether the man was killed by an east or west bound train.

The deceased visited the city yesterday and was drinking considerably, as was his custom nearly every time that he came to town. He was seen here after the departure of the branch passenger train yesterday afternoon, and the supposition is that he started to walk home at an early hour this morning, but becoming stupid from the effects of the liquor that he had drank, he sat down on the end of a tie and was struck and killed. He was hit in the back of the head, and the supposition is that he died almost instantly. His hat was picked up 100 feet from where the body was found, and nothing of value was found on his person.

Miller was well known in Sedalia. He was one of the smartest representatives of his race, but his love of liquor was something that he could not overcome, and as a result he was frequently arraigned in the police court. He has worked for a number of persons in the county in the past ten years, and all speak well of him except in the matter of dissipation.

The time for the funeral has not been arranged, but it is understood that the interment will take place at Georgetown to-morrow.

Seven Sinners.

In the police court, this morning, Emma Davis, a white bawd, was fined $7 for drunkenness. Four other prisoners were fined for trespass, one for late hours and one for vagrancy, and all were given a stay to leave town.

Major Henry A. Peed, of the Sweet Springs Herald, is in town today and exhibited to a DEMOCRAT reporter a letter that is prized very highly by the faculty of Marmaduke Military academy. It was written by Arthur L. Bresler, brigadier general of the corps of the guards of the Republic of Venezuela, and from it the following extract is taken:

"Permit me, as a foreign military man, to felicitate you on the good taste and appearance of your catalogue.

"I have catalogues of all military schools, old and new ones, and I am glad to see that your school, though new, is so enterprising as to issue such a book.

"I expect to visit the Chicago exposition and if you permit will visit your school this fall.

A CULINARY PROBLEM.

By MARY CHAHOON.

WE were busy one day in the kitchen, I deep in some cook-book lore, And he perched up on the table Driving a "coach-and-four."

But when I had finished this sentence In a receipt I had found— "Set on the stove and stir constantly," The driver looked around.

And leaving his play for a minute, He whispered in my ear— "How could any one 'set on the stove' And not 'stir constantly,' dear?"

IS IN "HOC" AT LAST.

TRAIN ROBBER MYERS IS NOW IN CUSTODY.

HIS PARTNER WAS KILLED.

The Sequel to a Missouri Pacific Train Robbery Near Lamar in January, 1892.

Detective Frank Barnett came in at noon from Kansas City and reports that the authorities there have information of the arrest at San Antonio, Texas, of Charles N. Myers, who, with Jim Francis, robbed a Missouri Pacific train between Lamar, Mo., and Pleasanton, Kan., in January, 1892.

They were pursued by a posse and took refuge in a box car, from where they exchanged shots with their pursuers and in the battle Francis was shot and killed. Myers was wounded and surrendered. He was taken to Lamar and recovered from his wound in jail. Six weeks after the robbery he was released on bond and when the case

His wife had rented and furnished a house near Sixteenth and Tracy in Kansas City. Francis had disappeared, but both houses were watched. Detectives were quartered in the Tracy avenue house under instructions from the chief awaiting for Francis to appear. Instead there came the news of his death while trying to escape arrest. Myers at the time lived in Kansas City. He has not, however, been there since jumping his bail at Lamar. His wife still lives in Kansas City and is now keeping a boarding house on the west side. came to trial he could not be found. An alias warrant and a reward of $100 were issued for his arrest, but the Lamar authorities could secure no trace of him. However, if there is no serious charge against him in Texas he will probably now be brought back to Missouri.

Francis, who was associated with Myers in the robbery near Lamar had been a few months before connected with a $40,000 train robbery at Glendale near St. Louis. With him at Glendale were Marion Hedgepeth, Adelbert Slye, "Dink" Wilson and another man. Slye is now in the Jefferson City penitentiary and Hedgepeth is in jail in St. Louis. Francis went to Kansas City after the robbery and hid in the home of his mother-in-law in Kansas City, Kan. Chief Speers located him and found that Francis tory of Myers was last night mailed by Chief Speers to the San Antonio sheriff.

Dr. Crow will remove his office to the Hoffman building, corner 5th and Ohio Streets, August 1st.

A Good Appointment.

If reports that reach Sedalia are to be credited, and the DEMOCRAT thinks they are, Chief Surgeon Yancey, of the M., K. & T., made no mistake in selecting his staff of local surgeons on the M., K. & T. At Rocheport, Dr. E. H. Chinn was the gentleman selected, and the choice must have been an excellent one, or Col. McQuitty, of the Commercial, would not have given it the endorsement that he did in a late issue of his journal. Dr. Chinn in one of the most popular and successful physicians up in that neck o' woods, and his legion of friends feel satisfied that Dr. Yancey will never have occasion to regret his Rocheport appointment.

Official Paper of the City of Sedalia.

FROM NOW until hard winter sets in there should be no let up in street improvement.

FRANCE accepts the concessions made by Siam. She would have been a hog if she hadn't.

THE democratic platform calls for the financial reform this country needs. Stick to it.

THE loyal citizen stands by the institutions of his town, and seeks rather to build up than tear down.

THIS corn weather will smash the financial stringency. Corn will be king and the goldbug panic maker will not be in it.

IN spite of hard times and monetary stringency the DEMOCRAT has grown in circulation and business constantly and steadily.

Cut the weeds and get rid of them. They are unsightly, slovenly, and to permit them to grow and go to decay is injurious to public health.

MR. CLEVELAND will not permit his gold-bug friends to stir up dust enough to obscure the tariff plank of the platform on which he was elected.

THE business men who advertise in the DEMOCRAT constantly and judiciously are certain to receive their full share of the business that is going on.

SEDALIA did the handsome thing and the right thing when she provided food for the hungry Colorado miners who passed through the city seeking work.

COLLECTIONS may be a little slow to-morrow, but when the Sedalia man looks around and compares the business situation here with that in other towns in this section, he should be ashamed to complain.

BEFORE we democrats secure any real substantial pension reform we must choke off some of our own prominent men who are able to draw princely salaries and at the same time have places on the pension rolls.

SECRETARY HOKE SMITH was hanged in effigy by the people of Portsmouth, Ohio, because the pension of an old man named Reed was revoked. As long as the hanging is only in effigy Hoke will not be seriously disturbed.

THE immense crowd which turned out to hear Gen. Weaver at Marshall and the hearty endorsement they gave his eulogy upon Bland, shows that the masses of the democratic party in this state stand just where they did before the late election in demanding free coinage of silver. No public man in Missouri is strong enough to lead the democrats away from the principles they have advocated for so many years.

CREDIT ASSASSINS.

The Globe-Democrat of a late date contains an editorial rebuking the credit assassins of Wall street who, through jealousy or desire for gain, have circulated false stories regarding the solvency of business firms. The G.-D. says:

"The action of the president of the New York exchange in warning members of that institution against circulating slanderous reports against other members or against the listed securities was timely, and probably will have a good effect. False reports attacking the credit of well-known business men and undermining the stability of prominent banks and stocks have been circulated on the exchange within the past few weeks with a freedom and an audacity almost without example. The object, which was to cause a break in stock prices, was, by these devices, often accomplished recently, and untold damage was done to business by destroying the public confidence, fostering distrust and creating the impression that a financial convulsion was at hand.

It is safe to say that the lying reports manufactured by a certain set of New York speculators are responsible for at least half the decline which has taken place in stocks since the collapse of the Cordage Trust about two months ago. This mendacity and malignity has cut down stock values to the extent of several hundreds of millions of dollars, has reduced thousands from competency to want, and has led to untold suffering and misery. Timid holders of stocks have been frightened into throwing them on the market at a heavy loss, and the damage and demoralization thus caused have aroused fears of worse things to come and have incited runs on banks and a sharp curtailment of the amount of money in trade channels. By the regulations of the exchange the governing committee, by a two-thirds vote, has the power to suspend or expel offending members, and this body has taken measures to employ this authority promptly and vigorously.

Attacks on the credit and reputation of business men and institutions in times like these constitute offenses of a peculiarly insidious and heinous character. Credit is a far more powerful lever in business than cash. Ninety-five per cent. of all the trade is transacted by means of checks, drafts and bills of exchange—that is, through credit in its various instrumentalities—and only 5 per cent in actual money. The men or cliques who wantonly assail business reputations are assassins of a particularly cowardly and dangerous variety, and ought to be dealt with rigorously by the law. Persons, who, in times like these, for the sake of personal gain, assault the credit of the community which is involved in the reputation of its business men and monetary institutions, and thus do their utmost to bring about financial ruin to the country, are deadly enemies of society whom society ought to extirpate by all the resources at its command."

The above is a timely and well merited rebuke to the credit assassins of Wall street, and it may be read with profit by certain Sedalians who have let their distorted ideas of their own personal interests lead them into making assertions and charges which to the stranger reflect upon the standing of Sedalia firms and value of Pettis county securities.

These men do not probably fully realize that they have become credit assassins and that the character of their fight against certain institutions is an attack upon farm mortgages, the best security western people have to offer, and that in making such attack they become enemies to the business of the community in which they live.

Kind Words for Sedalia.

The "tourists" who passed through Sedalia last Saturday arrived in St. Louis yesterday morning and were fed by the city authorities. From a column article in the Republic of this morning the following paragraph is taken:

"From Kansas City here the crowd came over the Missouri Pacific, stopping at Sedalia to appease the hunger that had gone unsatisfied at Kansas City. The tourists all declare that Sedalia people did their utmost for their comfort, but not one of them had a kind word for Kansas City."

THOMAS COLLINS LOSES HIS RIGHT LEG.

The Unfortunate Man Who Jumped
From a Pacific Train Last Saturday Night.

Thomas Collins, colored, the unfortunate negro who jumped from Missouri Pacific train No. 4 at the Grand avenue crossing Saturday night and sustained a fracture of the right leg and dislocation of the left shoulder, is being cared for at the home of a colored family near the depot.

The case was even worse than reported in the SUNDAY MORNING DEMOCRAT. When Dr. W. J. Ferguson reached the unfortunate man he was lying out in the open, with the rain pouring down upon him, and he remained there fully half an hour before the carriage arrived, becoming wet to the very skin in the meantime.

On arrival in the city proper it was found that the right leg from the knee down was frightfully crushed, the splintered bones protruding through the flesh, and the patient suffered the greatest possible agony.

Dr. Ferguson and Dr. Sid Conkwright amputated the injured member above the knee, and also reduced the fracture of the shoulder, and the patient is now doing as well as could be expected.

Collins denies that he paid the train porter for the privilege of riding, as stated by one of the city papers. He was beating his way, and on reaching Grand avenue he was discovered by the porter, who informed him that he had better jump off, as he was certain to be arrested if he rode to the depot. He jumped as advised, when the right knee came in contact with the wooden sidewalk, and the injuries narrated above were sustained. Collins lives in St. Louis and will be sent there as soon as he is able to travel.

REMARKABLE BLIND MEN.

Jefferson City Has One Who is Indeed a Wonder.

George Stone, who is stone blind, walks up and down the streets without difficulty, and it is a common thing for him to walk from his home, about five miles from town, to town and return. He does it without fear or difficulty, although he is perfectly blind.—Cape Girardeau Era.

Jefferson City can boast of a blind man who is far ahead of the Cape Girardeau unfortunate, says the Tribune. Henry Dillard, a negro resident of this city, who lost his eye-sight by the premature discharge of a blast while he was an inmate of the penitentiary, many years ago, is a wonder to all who know him. He can go to any part of the city without assistance and makes an independent living by sawing and splitting wood and fishing. He not only can set out a trot-line in the Missouri river, but baits and attends to it every day by himself. This is hazardous work for many who have two good eyes, but Henry has never met with a mishap. He can take a skiff and cross the river to the Callaway side at any time, and, returning, land where he desires. He never gets lost and never needs any assistance. In addition to such remarkable acquirements for a blind man, Henry has also had considerable experience in the matrimonial market, and has led more than one bride to the altar.

Postoffice Supply.

Stanley Coal Co. having secured the contract to furnish the Sedalia postoffice with hard coal, amounting to seventy tons, can supply the trade at less than any dealer in Sedalia. Now is the time to place your orders with them for hard or soft coal for the winter's use. Don't fail to call on them. Telephone 26.

Minus Both Legs.

John Edwards, colored, from Bonham, Texas, where he has three children dependent upon him for support, arrived in the city yesterday and is to-day engaged in selling pins, needles, pencils, etc., upon the street corners. Both legs were amputated at the hips ten years ago, the result of white swelling, and the man certainly appears to be worthy of patronage.

SUNDAY'S ASCENSION.

Miss Squires Up in a Balloon at Association Park.

Miss Madeline Squires gave her advertised balloon ascension at Association park at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the presence of 200 or 300 people, the threatening appearance of the clouds no doubt having kept many other hundreds away.

The balloon was anchored within the half-mile track enclosure, and when all was in readiness Miss Squires kissed her aunt, Mrs. Johnson, good-bye and called out, "Let everything go!"

The balloon rose slowly to a height of less than 200 feet, Miss Squires being suspended in her parachute in the meantime, and then alighted on the kite-shaped track, only a few hundred feet distant from the starting point.

Relieved of the aeronaut's weight, however, the air ship rose again, and this time it alighted in J. R. Barrett's field.

The Treasurer Is Here.
State Treasurer Lon V. Stephens came in from the state capital yesterday and remained over to-day. He has received a number of anonymous letters, criticising his action in accepting more than $200,000 worth of Equitable bonds from the Pettis County Investment Co. as security for the $100,000 deposit required by law, and his mission here is to convince doubting Thomases that he did exactly what was right in the premises.

"I endeavor to handle my department of the state business precisely the same as I would if it was my own individual affair," said Mr. Stephens, "and I am prepared to convince any one that I have simply done my duty in the premises."

Still Passing Through.
A number of additional "Colorado sufferers" passed through the city yesterday, last night and to-day on Missouri Pacific freight trains, but in no such numbers as they did on Saturday. The fact is, nearly all eastbound tramps now claim to be from the ranks of Colorado's unemployed workmen, when in reality many of them have not been within the borders of the state for months, if ever.

Harry Stephens' Injuries.
Harry Stephens, the East Sedalia plasterer, who had a foot crushed in the Missouri Pacific yards last Saturday, is reported by Dr. W. J. Ferguson, the attending physician, to be getting along nicely. He was visited by many friends yesterday, and all expressed deep sympathy for him in his misfortune. He complains of pains in his back at times, but it is not now believed that he sustained internal injuries, as was feared at first.

He has been selling goods in Marshall for 21 years, and is entitled to a free ticket to the fair next Tuesday with the other old settlers. George has a host of
